¹ The maximum power output figures are quoted in PS (or Pferdestärke, which is the metric equivalent of horsepower). To convert from metric to imperial horsepower, divide the PS by 1.0139.

² Where law permits.

³ Official fuel consumption according to EU Directive 99/94. The consumption calculation according to 1999/100/EC is based on the actual unladen weight of the vehicle. Additional specifications can lead to a higher weight class and hence to consumption figures of this higher weight class. The driving style, road traffic conditions, environmental influences and vehicle condition can in practice lead to consumption figures which may differ from those calculated within this standard.

Model shown: Ibiza SE with optional 16" 'Design' alloy wheels, Vision Pack Plus and Mystery Blue metallic paint.

Vehicle Excise Duty (VED).

All new vehicles are subject to a form of vehicle excise duty based on the type of fuel the vehicle uses and its carbon dioxide (CO₂) emission level, measured in grammes per kilometre (g/km). To help you identify the duty you will pay, the DVLA has created thirteen bands. The table below shows the 12-month RFL rate for petrol and diesel cars:

Effective from 1st April 2017 until 31st March 2018.

Fuel Consumption and CO₂.

Fuel consumption and CO₂ figures are obtained under standardised EU test conditions (Directive 93/116/EEC). This allows a direct comparison between different manufacturer models but may not represent the actual fuel consumption achieved in 'real world' driving conditions. More information is available on the SEAT website at www.seat.co.uk and at www.vca.gov.uk.

How is the fuel consumption test conducted?

- The test is outlined in Directive 93/116/EC as amended by Regulation (EC) 692/2008, and provides results that are more than representative of actual average on-road fuel consumption than previous tests. There are two parts: an urban and an extra-urban cycle. The cars tested have to be run-in and must have been driven for at least 1,800 miles (3,000 kilometres) before testing.
- Urban Cycle. The urban test cycle is carried out in a laboratory at an ambient temperature of 20°C to 30°C on a rolling road from a cold start, i.e. the engine has not run for several hours. The cycle consists of a series of accelerations, steady speeds, decelerating and idling. Maximum speed is 31mph (50km/h), average speed 12mph (19km/h) and the distance covered is 2.5 miles (4km).
- Extra-Urban Cycle. This cycle is conducted immediately following the urban cycle and consists of roughly half steady-speed driving and the remainder accelerations, decelerations, and some idling. Maximum speed is 75mph (120km/h), average speed is 39mph (63 km/h) and the distance covered is 4.3miles (7km).
- Combined Fuel Consumption Figure. The combined figure presented is for the urban and extra-urban cycle together. It is therefore an average of the two parts of the test, weighted by the distances covered in each part.

CO₂ benefit in kind (BIK) tax.

How to calculate your liability

The BIK value is calculated by taking the On The Road (OTR) price of the vehicle, less the RFL and first registration fee. This figure, known as the P11D value, is then multiplied by a percentage value based on the CO₂ emissions of the vehicle.

- For tax year 2017/18, the banding starts at 9%, applicable to cars which emit between 0 and 50 g/km (a 3% surcharge exists on all diesels that emit less than 180 grammes of CO₂ per kilometre).
- Cars which emit between 95 and 99 g/km attract a charge of 18%.
- Cars which emit between 100 and 104 g/km attract a charge of 19%. Every 5 g/km increase from 105 g/km adds 1% to the banding.
- The maximum charge is 37%.
- The exact CO₂ figure is always rounded down to the nearest 5 g/km (e.g. emissions of 139 g/km would be charged at the rate for 135 g/km).

To find out how much you will pay, simply multiply the BIK value by 20% or 40% depending on the level of income tax that you pay.

BIK calculation example – Ibiza SE 1.0 TSI 95PS
P11D value (OTR price less RFL and first registration fee)	£14,400.00
CO ₂ emissions (g/km)	106
Company car BIK tax based on CO ₂ emission level	20%
Taxable BIK (for 2017/18 tax year): 20% of £14,400.00	£2,880.00
Annual company car tax (2017/18)
20% income tax: 20% of £2,880.00	£576.00 per annum
40% income tax: 40% of £2,880.00	£1,152.00 per annum
Monthly company car tax (2017/18)
20% income tax: £576.00 divided by 12	£48.00 per month
40% income tax: £1,152.00 divided by 12	£96.00 per month

Fuel benefit charge

If your employer provides you with free fuel, this is treated as an additional taxable benefit. The charge for the 2017/18 tax year is based on a set figure of £22,600.00, and uses the same percentage figure used to calculate your company car BIK value.

Fuel benefit charge example – Ibiza SE 1.0 TSI 95PS

The percentage used to calculate the BIK value for the Ibiza SE 1.0 TSI 95PS is 20%.

If free fuel is supplied with this car for the 2017/18 tax year, the fuel benefit will be:

£22,600.00 x 20% = £4,520.00.

At 20% income tax: £4,520.00 x 20% = £904.00.

At 40% income tax: £4,520.00 x 40% = £1,808.00.

Effect of Wheel Size on CO₂

Choosing larger wheels than standard as options may result in increased fuel consumption as well as higher CO₂ emissions and consequently increased Vehicle Excise Duty (VED) and BIK rates. This is due to larger wheels having both more aerodynamic drag and more mechanical drag, resulting in increased rolling resistance and increased wind resistance. As a result, the VED band that the vehicle falls into may increase. In some instances, the 'On the Road' price for the vehicle may increase as a result of the increased VED rate. None of the Ibiza models are affected by this regardless of the optional wheels chosen.

The SEAT Warranty

Three-year Warranty. All new SEATs registered in the UK come with a three year/60,000 miles warranty, which protects your car against the failure of most mechanical and electrical components due to manufacturing defects.
